Teams that were on the game that just ended move immediately to the corner of the field for post-game talks or anything else so that KSYSA staff can come and disinfect the bench areas.

Teams waiting for the next game may wait in their area and leave their equipment there or move it to go in front of the bench area they will use for the game.

Spectators for the next game should wait in their corner of the field until the spectators from previous game pack up and leave the facility. Try to maintain social distancing as best as possible and always wear a mask/face covering while within the facility.
